DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-12, 14-35, 43, 46, 54, and 57-59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Desai (US 2003/008828) in view of Uitenbrock (US 2003/0111166 or US 6827806) as set forth on pages 2-7 of the Office action dated October 13, 2006.

Claim 40 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Desai in view of Uitenbrock as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Mleziva (US 6057024) as set forth on page 8 of the October 13, 2006, Office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed January 19, 2007, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

It is not seen that the use of the term "charged electrospun microfibers or droplets" distinguishes the claimed invention from the prior art as the elastomeric stripes provided by Desai would have to possess at least some degree of charge as would any material. No particular degree of "charge" is claimed that would define the article of the present invention from the materials of the prior art as taught by Desai and Uitenbrock and Mleziva as set forth in the Office action.

Art Unit: 1771

The Examiner maintains that the use of the term “charged electrospun microfibers or droplets” is a process limitation that fails to define the article claimed here from the prior art.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
